Please note: Reiki is not to be considered a substitute for medical treatment.

Dedicated to all of you, who continue to inspire me along the Reiki path.

The foundation of ReikiOne is the acceptance of all expressions of Reiki energy. The energy flows from the same source, the universe, no matter what we might choose to call it; hence, the motto, "one world, one universe, one source."

Grid Examples

4 sided or Pyramid Grid

5 sided or Pentacle Grid

The pentacle represents the spirit (top point) and 4 elements: earth, air, water, & fire

6 sided Grid

12 sided or Zodiac Grid: This grid can be set up with each section corresponding to the gemstones of the zodiac, or to represent the houses associated with your birth.

If you made a personal Reiki Grid from scratch, what would it look like?

Stonehenge is an example of a large outdoor grid. Grids can be formed in your yard, garden, or areas of your home where you feel extra energy or healing is needed. If you follow Feng Shui, place grids according to the bagua.

Mastership: ReikiOne Third Degree Manual Part A by Teri A. Moore, Reiki Master Teacher

This book contains the 4th symbol, its use for Reiki treatments and a discussion of what it means to be a Reiki Master. The Master Teacher Manual (Third Degree Part B) listed below elaborates on the Mastership manual and goes further with explanations of the teaching of Reiki. Please note: Mastership was designed for those teachers (or students) who break their Third Degree training into two parts - that of Master and then Master Teacher. This is a traditional division point in the teaching of Reiki as not everyone who is Reiki Master desires to be Reiki Master Teacher. IF YOU WILL BE TEACHING/LEARNING REIKI ONLY FROM THE PLACE OF MASTER TEACHER, THEN PLEASE REFER TO THE THIRD DEGREE PART B BOOK BELOW.
